Writer & Director

Dan Real, French-born, is an engineer major, with over 10 years in the high technology sector, who went on to pursue his cinema passion.

He created Dan Real Films in 2008 and it is a rapidly expanding film production company with an impressive, diverse portfolio of clients and projects including General Electric, Loyola Marymount University, Sony, Martini, TF1 among others.

After many years directing and producing commercials for worldwide leading brands in the consumer industry and music performances, he started to jump into the film industry in Los Angeles since 2015.

Dan Real produced and directed the documentary Marilyn - The Last Investigation in 2016 starring Sami Naceri, Erin Gavin and James Kacey and the short comedy film The Good Agent (A Hollywood Fable) starring Terence Leclerc and Melissa Papel in 2017.

The Good Agent was selected at the Short Film Corner of the Cannes Film Festival and at the Burbank International Film Festival in 2017.

Dan was involve in the feature film Encounter and also in the short film Connected for his specific skills in the post-production workflow.
